

Important Changes to WMS for Australian Users - Dec 2018

This is an update for Nearmap users that utilise WMS integration with Nearmap.

We have been making improvements to Nearmap's capture program, and as part of that we have made some changes to names of newly captured surveys, and added completely new surveys. The existing WMS layer paths and the imagery stored within them will not change.

If you notice that survey updates are not coming through, you may find newer surveys under the names listed here. You may also want to add new surveys that you haven't seen before.

These changes only affect our Australian WMS service, not our WMS United States service.

The tables include surveys that have been flown and published, and surveys that are going to be flown and published in the future. Published surveys mean that the imagery for the survey area has been captured then made available.

You can get notifications when surveys are updated using the watchlist, and we will update this page periodically.

This guide includes the following sections:

- New Names for Existing Surveys
- New Surveys
- Using Watchlist Notifications

New Names for Existing Surveys

The following table lists the changes to names of newly captured surveys.

The first column shows the name of an existing survey, the second column shows the name of the new survey, and the third column indicates whether the survey has been flown and published.
