

Is downloading an existing export output counted against my allowance?

No, 3D Export allowance is counted at the time of the export. You are free to download the existing output files at any time without those being counted again.